
When working with ANY chemical, use caution!

Or this could happen to you:

Above: A topical hydrofluoric acid burn. Typically, HF burns do not show visible evidence of injury for a day or two after exposure.